J&S Audio Visual, Inc. delivers a full spectrum of audio visual services to companies across North America. We help our clients capture their audience, communicate their message and support their brand. We do this by approaching their goals creatively rather than just technically and attending to every last detail, so their communications will make a lasting impression.

We use our decades of international experience, full range of current technology, and team of tenured employees to amaze clients with what can be done on target and on budget. This has rewarded us with loyal and long-lasting relationships.

We also bring these principals to the other aspects of our operations, whether it is Show Services, Creative Services, Hospitality Services or Design & Integration. Read on for more information on all our offerings.

Show Services

Every detail that goes into planning a show, event or meeting, adds up to a hefty responsibility.

We can take a lot of that weight off. We have extensive experience working with meeting planners, producers and technical directors. We speak their language and are able to shoulder many of the responsibilities that they normally lose sleep over.

We'll sweat the details for you, providing everything you need including comprehensive proposals, equipment recommendations, pre-planning, labor and production schedules, technical drawings, and detailed equipment and labor billing.

Plus we are road-ready for anywhere you need us to be in North America. In short, everything we do helps you relax, do your job efficiently and confidently, and stay focused on your big-picture goals for the event.

Hospitality Services

The finest hotels, resorts and convention centers succeed by providing the highest levels of service and quality to their guests. We help them accomplish this without the guests even knowing we were involved. We put our extensive experience and knowledge to work for you, seamlessly integrating our audio-visual solutions into your organization.
